Ingeniously constructed around the lagoon of the River Giscle, the best way to get around this delightful and unusual location is by boat. Nearly every house has its own view of the port and Maison Blanche has one of the best. The terrace looks out over the comings and goings of little craft, there will always be something of interest to catch the eye. Maison Blanche has its own berth so you can hire a boat for the duration of your holiday, moor it at the end of your own garden and join in the waterborne fun.

Less than five minutes walk away are the sandy beaches. Watersports are available on the beach. You can also catch a water taxi across the bay to St Tropez.
